

Paul Delph Team participates in AIDS Walk for 13th time

It's nearly time for the annual WALK TO STOP AIDS. The Paul Delph Team is gearing up to walk again this year and hope you will join them. Last year, with your help, they were thrilled to once again support of the good work of STOP AIDS (formerly known as AIDS Volunteers of Cincinnati – AVOC).

Since the team's first walk in 1998, the Paul Delph Team has raised more than $24,000 for STOP AIDS. The family is so very proud of this contribution that helps others who suffer as Paul did. And the work continues. Here's what you can do to participate.

Number One: Join them for the walk. Again this year they invite you to join them at Sawyer Point for the walk. Wear your most comfortable walking shoes and meet them at the Team Registration Booth no later than 9:30. Bring all donations you have collected. The walk begins promptly at 10 a.m.

Parking is available in the Sawyer Point Lot on East Pete Rose Way for $2-5.00. If that lot is full there's another lot across the street on Eggelston.

If you walked last year and still have your Paul Delph Team button bring it with you!

Number Two: Make a contribution. If you can't walk with them, you can still make a donation by mailing your check, payable to STOP AIDS, to Maria Sulcer at 4129 Lansdowne Avenue, Cincinnati, Ohio 45236. Date your check September 18, 2011 and write Paul Delph Team on the memo line. Or you can make a donation online. Here's a link to the STOP AIDS Paul Delph Team webpage: <http://stopaids.donordrive.com/index.cfm?fuseaction=donor-drive.team&eventID=509&teamID=507>

Thank you for your love and support over the years and hope to see you on the 18th.

Youth suicide risk to be studied

Researchers at New York University and the University of Arizona will study the causes behind suicide risk for Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender (LGBT) youth during a three-year period. Their study, under a $2.8 million grant from the National Institute of Mental Health, is also intended to discover avenues of interventions to lower the risk of suicide among LGBT teenagers and those in their early 20s.

“Study after study has found higher rates of suicidal behaviors among LGBT youth than for their heterosexual peers,” explained Arnold Grossman, a professor in the Department of Applied Psychology at NYU’s Steinhardt School of Culture, Education, and Human Development and the project’s principal investigator.

“Other research has pointed to potential causes. For instance, compared to prior generations, today’s LGBT youth are increasingly aware of, identifying and disclosing their sexual and gender identities earlier in life. As a result, they are more likely to be exposed to suicidal risk factors—such as bullying, harassment, marginalization, and victimization by family members and peers.”

Research will follow, over a three-year period, more than 1,000 LGBT youth aged 15 to 21 in three metropolitan areas in the United States. It will focus on a series of psychological factors associated with suicide.

These include thwarted belongingness (e.g., being excluded from family events) and perceived burdensomeness (i.e., belief in making things worse for others).
