PRIDE DAY @ CINCINNATI REDS

PRSS RELEASE

Community Organizes First Family Pride Day at Cincinnati Reds Game

Various nonprofit organizations pulled together a dynamic day at the Reds for gay, lesbian, bisexual, transgender people plus their family and friends.

Cincinnati, September 1, 2011: Four organizations are working together to create a special day involving the AIDS Walk, Men's Chorus, HRC Cincinnati and OutNowMagazine.org. Join us on Sunday, September 18, 2011 to celebrate a great day of family fun at Great American Ball Park when the Cincinnati Reds challenge the Milwaukee Brewers. The action starts at 1PM with an after party at Holy Grail.

For the first time, the Cincinnati Men's Chorus will start the game by singing the national anthem to commemorate Pride Day at the Reds. And the Reds mascot will visit our section for photo opportunities.

The AIDS Walk is on the morning of September 18 and many walkers will be joining us for this exciting day of fellowship and pride in our community.

We have a section reserved for our group to create a festive environment! To ensure you sit with the Tri-State's GLBT family and friends, use the HRC link below to purchase your ticket. When you purchase your ticket via the HRC link, you get an automatic one-year membership to HRC.

Tickets purchased in advance, online at www.hrc.org/reds are $17 each and include a one-year HRC membership or renewal for person 18 years of age or older. Wear your best HRC gear (t-shirts, hats, etc.) to show your family pride. Bring the whole family and all of your friends!

Sponsorship and host opportunities are available for this event at the $250 sponsor level and $100 host level. Contact us at hrcincinnati@gmail.com for more information.
